Canada Council grant to Library

The University Library has received a grant of $61,000 from the Canada Council to support acquisitions in specialized fields of the social sciences and humanities. The grant was the fourth highest among 31 universities which received a total of one million dollars for the same purpose.

The largest portion of the grant, $13,000, will be used for acquisitions in the field of English. History and Germanic languages have been allotted $8,000 each. Political Science receives $7,000, Economics $6,000, Romance Languages $5,000, and Slavonic Languages and Education $4,000 each. Classics and Anthropology will benefit by acquisitions totalling $3,000 each.

The grants come in the wake of a statement by Jean Boucher, Director of the Canada Council, that Canada must double its university library holdings to keep up to international standards.

In making the grants, the Canada Council considered the level of postgraduate activity, the amount spent by the universities themselves on purchases, and the specialized character of proposed acquisitions.

The University of Toronto also received a separate grant toward the acquisition of a special collection of Turkish literature and history.

Botanical Gardens open to public

The University of Alberta Botanical Gardens and Field Laboratory near Devon are again open to the public this summer.

The Gardens will be open every other Wednesday from 2 to 8 p.m. during June, July, August and September, beginning Wednesday, June 12.

They cover 80 acres of land and contain about 1,700 varieties of hardy shrubs and plants suitable to Northern Alberta gardens.

Started about eight years ago to experiment with various garden plants and determine which were adaptable to the short Alberta growing season, the Gardens are working plots, not a showplace. Women visitors are advised to wear low-heeled shoes.

The Gardens are located just east of Highway 60 about nine and one-half miles south of Highway 16 west.

Matters relating to the publishing of FOLIO, The New Trail, The Report of the Governors, and other publications, exclusive of the University Calendars, should be referred to F. W. Samis, Publications Officer.

The publishing of the Calendars will be handled by the Registrar's Office, under the guidance of a committee of the General Faculty Council.

Canada Council advances deadlines

Staff members in the Faculty of Arts are reminded that the Canada Council has advanced its deadlines to October 1 for the annual competitions for Leave Fellowships, Post-Doctoral Fellowships and Arts Awards. The change is effective immediately.

By the new terms, a staff member planning leave in 1969-70 would be required to complete and mail his application for a fellowship to the Canada Council by October 1, 1968.

Brochures announcing the revised terms and conditions of the three competitions affected by the advanced deadline will be available in August from the Awards Service of the Canada Council, 140 Wellington Street, Ottawa 4, Ontario.

Special dance courses this summer

The Faculty of Physical Education, in association with the provincial government, the Alberta Ballet Company, the University of Alberta Orchestras and the Canadian Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation, is sponsoring a series of courses in Ballet and modern dance this summer.

"Dance Session '68" will be held at the University from August 19 to August 31. A number of international dance specialists will staff the session, and will be exchanged from one program to another so that those taking the courses will have the broadest possible exposure to the work of a variety of professionals.

Concentrated courses in ballet and modern dance are available for adults, including general sessions on films, music, make-up, production techniques, and anatomy. A special Modern Dance Workshop and Ballet Teacher's Course will also be held.

Shorter sessions in general ballet and creative (modern) dance for children will also be held. Creative dance is open to children from 5 to 13 years of age; the general ballet course will be at the level of grades IV and V (Royal Academy of Dancing) or grades I to III (Cecchetti).

For further information and registration forms, contact the Faculty of Physical Education.

Divorced males and soft drinks

The DBS Weekly, a publication of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, reports that only 79.9 per cent of Canada's divorced males live in urban areas, whereas 91.6 per cent of the divorced females are city dwellers.

In the married population, however, the percentage of males and females living in cities is almost identical, with the females outnumbering the males by less than half a percentage point.

The Weekly goes on to say that the April production of soft drinks in Canada totalled 23,338,884 gallons, an increase of about 27 percent over last year's production in April. However, in April this year, milk production was down 0.3 percent to 138,363,000 quarts.

There is probably no correlation between the amount of pop produced and the number of divorced males living in the city. At least, Weekly doesn't say that there is. But if they would tell us the percentage of divorced females employed by the soft drink industry in urban areas. . . .
